Although Rachel Jean Marteen spent a fitful night anticipating her upcoming holiday, she's not a bit hazy this morning. Michelle Armstrong (overleaf) would bend over backwards just to get a few hours off.

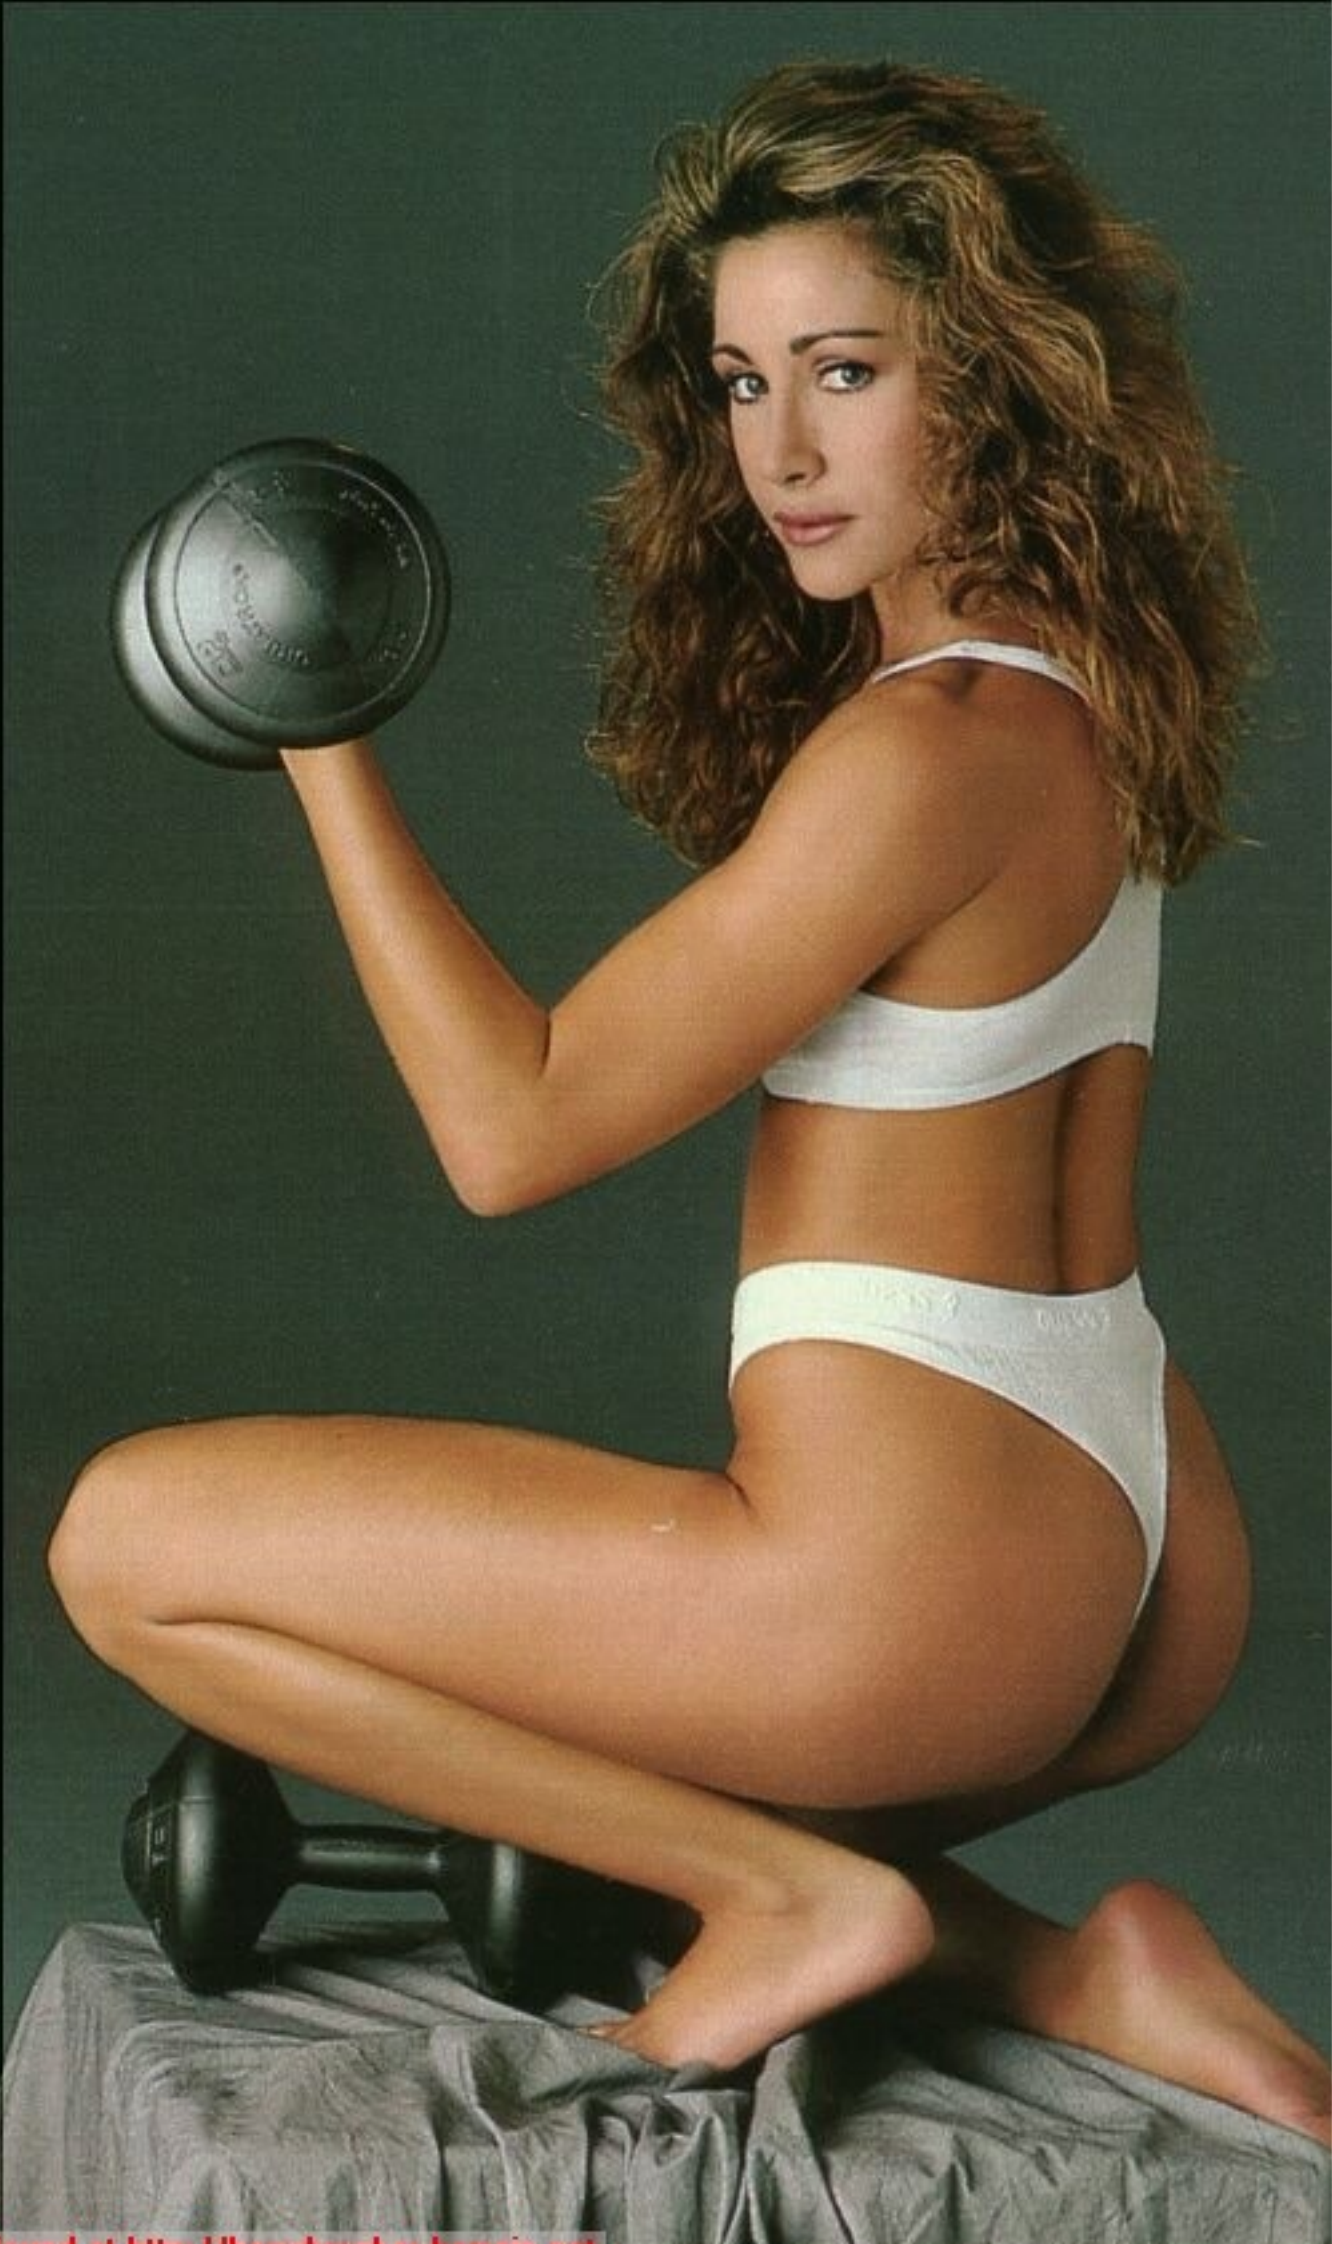

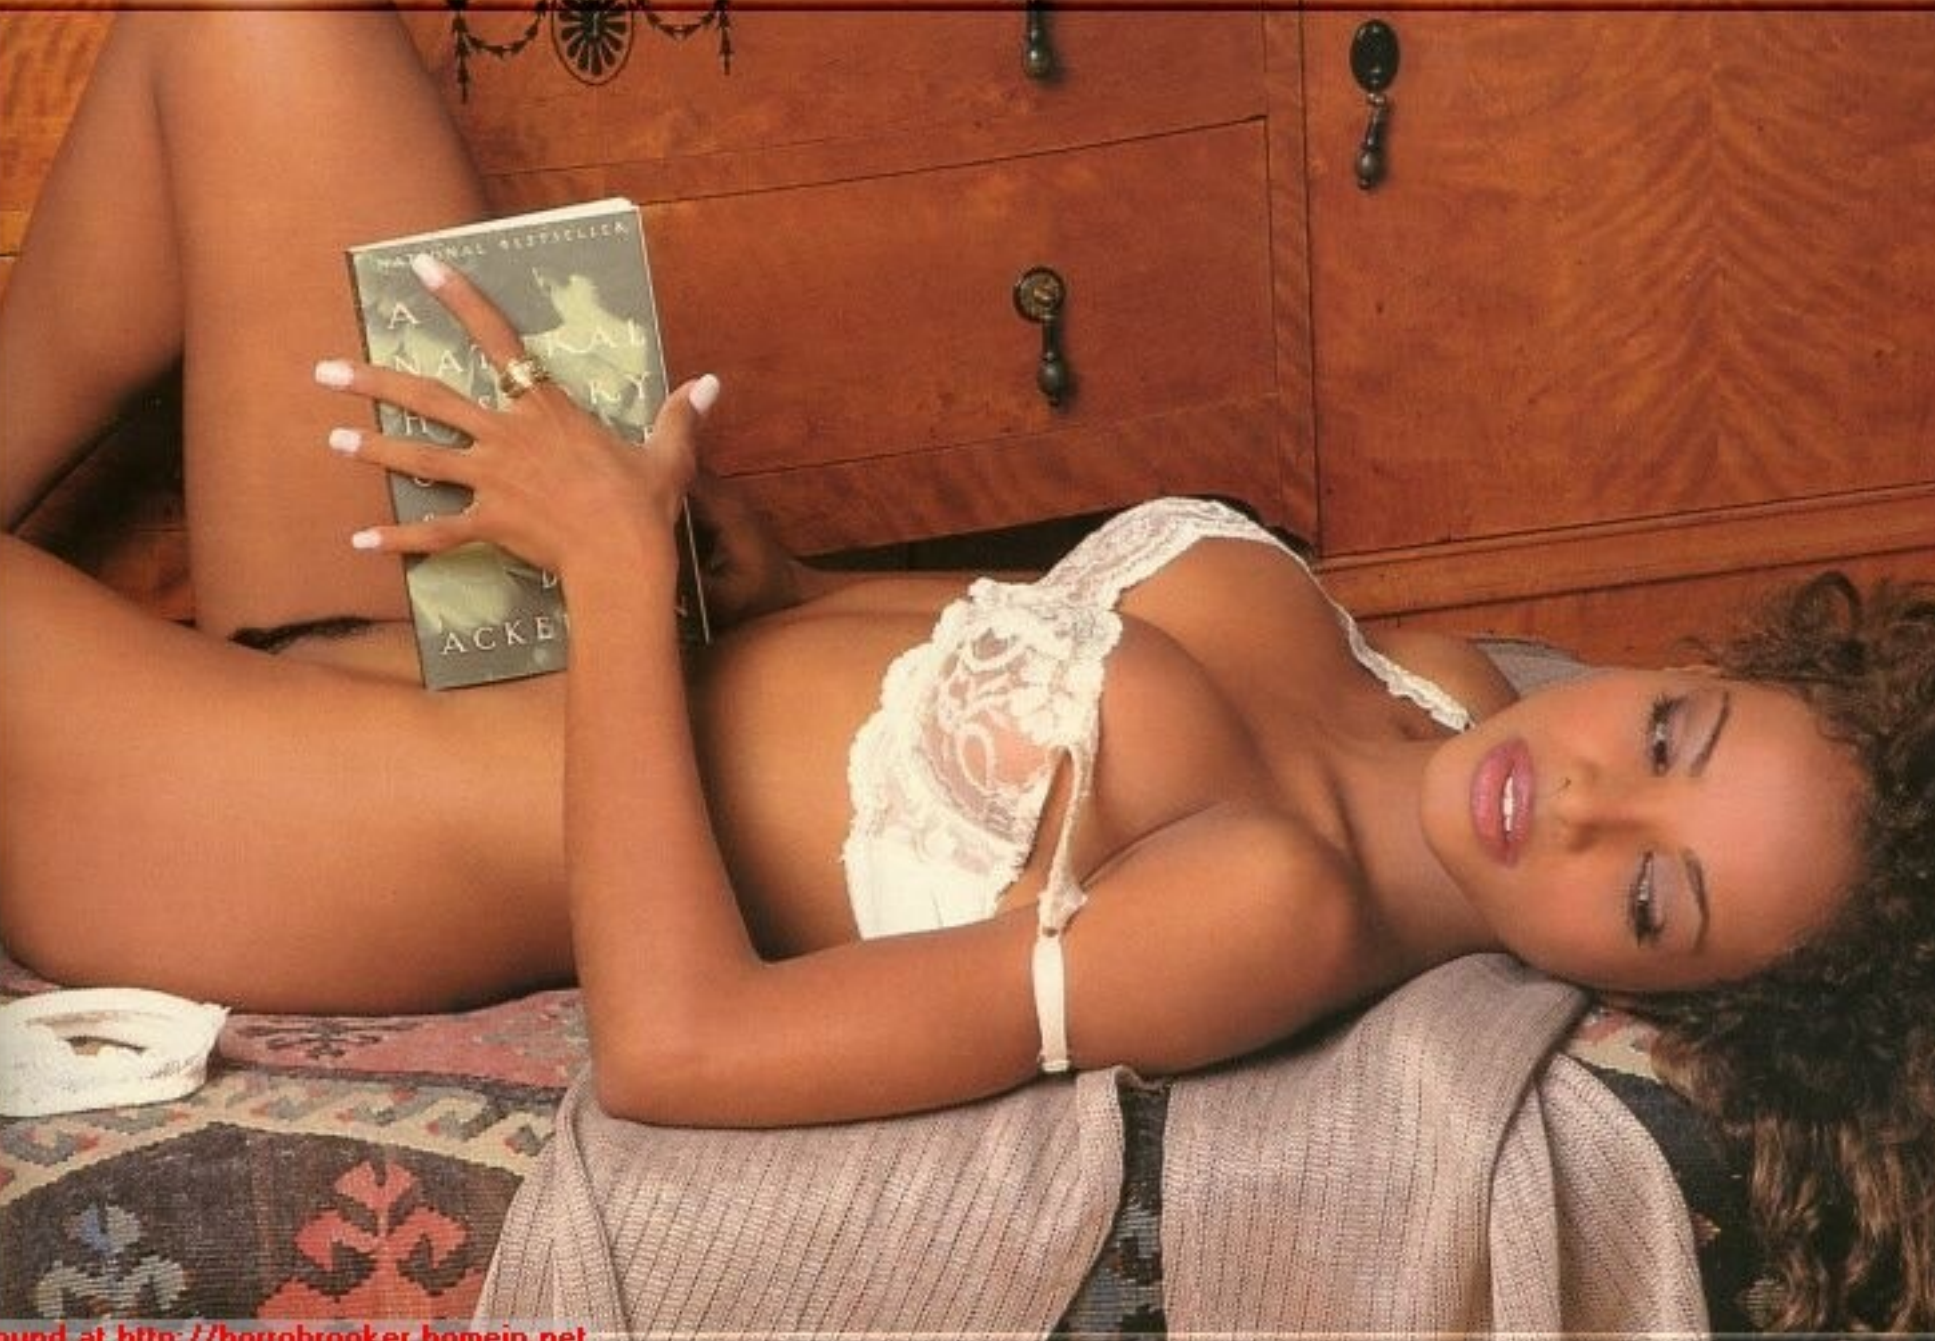

"How idiotic civilization is!" Katherine Mansfield once wrote. "Why be given a body if you have to keep it shut up in a case like a rare, rare fiddle?" Jacqueline and Christine Artecona (above, left and right) are in complete agreement. These finely tuned sisters take to the road in their all-terrain vehicle—and little else.

Lynn Wolf (above and right) is fully in touch with her inner child, who just happens to be a tomboy in funky boots. Carrie Westcott (far right) loved the kinky hot pants, but nixed the mannish suspenders.

Everyone loves a mystery; few of us get a chance to actually solve one. Dressed down in a cropped vest and G-string, Tanya Reid (above) came upon a concealed door and is preparing to discover the secrets lying behind it. Amateur sleuth Amy Weber (right) was baffled by her case until she began to get dressed one morning. Suddenly, the pieces of the puzzle all fit, and eureka! she knew who dunnit.
